

EARLY WRIGHT PLANE FLOWN AT RACES

STAND IS TAKEN BY BROOKHART IN IOWA SPEECH

Declares He Never Thought of Bolting
Party

Des Moines, Iowa, Oct. 4.—Senator Smith Brookhart, Republican farm bloc leader, attacked President Coolidge in a speech he delivered at Emmetsburg, Iowa. The senator declared Coolidge belongs to the "Wall street bloc" and that the leadership of the Republican party has forsaken the principles of Lincoln and Roosevelt. While he did not openly espouse the cause of the La Follette-Wheeler ticket, Senator Brookhart made it clear that he would not support Coolidge and took a position on campaign issues diametrically opposite to the president. Three times in his speech he mentioned Senator La Follette in a favorable light. At the same time Brookhart denied reports that he was bolting the Republican party. He is a candidate for re-election on the Republican ticket in this state.

Brookhart said: "I have never had a thought of leaving the party. My whole soul is wrapped up in the principles of Lincoln, Roosevelt and Kenyon. On the other hand, I will fight with all my strength that false and corrupt conception that crept into the party under the leadership of Hanna, Penrose and Newberry."

The senator accused the president of approving overvaluation of the railroads, saying the roads were worth only $12,000,000,000 and that Coolidge favored a valuation of $30,000,000,000, which the senator said would prevent a reduction in freight rates. He continued:

"I am against Newberryism. The president was for it; I was against the ship subsidy, the president supported it; I was in favor of repealing the Esch-Cummins law and the president opposed it; I was in favor of investigating corruption in the departments and the president opposed the investigations and criticized the senate for its action; on all taxation I favor high taxes on excess profits and large incomes and estates, and the president favors the Mellon plan, which taxes the poor; I belong to the farm bloc and the president belongs to the Wall street bloc."

Following Brookhart's speech, the Iowa Republican central committee decided that he had ruled himself out of the Republican ranks when he denounced President Coolidge and Charles G. Dawes, Republican nominees for president and vice president. The committee itself did not directly declare Senator Brookhart out of the party, but stated that his statements of the last few days constitute "a repudiation of a and a bolt from the Republican party."

RAIN THREATENS SERIES

Washington, Oct. 4.—Cool, cloudy weather, with a threat of rain in the air, was the weather dish served up for the opening game of the world series today.

At 8 o'clock a heavy mist was hanging over the capital and the sun was nowhere in sight. The mist was so heavy it amounted almost to a drizzle.

Crabbe to Testify.

Columbus, Oct. 4.—It was announced that Attorney General Crabbe will be called Oct. 15 in an effort to prove the trial of former Sheriff Frank L. Holycross on charges of transportation and possession of liquor is illegal and "persecution by the Anti-Saloon league and not prosecution by the state of Ohio." Issuance of the subpoena for the attorney general was the counter move of the defense when the prosecution obtained postponement of the trial to Oct. 15 over the protest of Holycross' attorneys.

WASHINGTON MAD OVER FIRST WORLD'S SERIES

WASHINGTON FANS AFTER TICKETS

Washington takes baseball as seriously as Senators take themselves. So when "Bucky" Harris' team brought home the bacon and the right to play in Washington's first World's Series, the town clamored for admission. This is only a small section of the mob that sought to buy tickets when they were placed on sale there.

WASHINGTON REMAINS CALM THOUGH FACING ONE OF MOST IMPORTANT SERIES IN HISTORY

By DAVIS J. WALSH

Washington, Oct. 4.—They say the streets of Brussels fairly rang with revelry by night on the eve of the battle of Waterloo, that the Hessians sang long and loudly before their defeat at Princeton and that Cornwallis marched to his surrender at Yorktown, heavy eyed from the aftermath of a hard evening, but staid, old Washington in spite of the fact that it was about to stake itself to what promises to be the most unusual set of games that organized baseball has known.

Its inspired Senators were to take on the New York Giants in the series inaugurated this afternoon with Walter Johnson's smoke ball on view in a World Series for the first time since that esteemed gentleman entered the bigtime 17 years ago. Yet Washington took the matter with dispassionate calm wholly unexpected in view of its lengthy wait for a pennant winner.

It was a typical Johnson day, with a mist hanging low over the field and a weather bureau forecast that the afternoon would remain cloudy. In that case the Giants—harassed by injuries and the hangover of the O'Connell-Dolan scandal, will step to the plate to try to do business with a baseball that is not altogether discernible to the unrobbed eye.

Because of Johnson, the Senators will step out as 6 to 5 favorite to win the opening game and even money choices to win the series. Physically they had the edge on the Giants who were weakened by injuries to Heinie Groh and Frank Frisch psychologically they were highly esteemed because of the nasty scandal that burst in the faces of the Giants less than seventy two hours before the opening game.

As Stanley Harris, our well known young manager, said to the writer: "If the Giants have guilty knowledge they will be easy for us. If they haven't then I look for the men under suspicion to play better ball than they ever did before."

In either case the writer thinks the Giant morale may suffer. In view of what has gone before, it would be suicidal for Young, Kelly or Frisch to have an off day at anytime during the series. A mere fumble might bring down on the heads the invective of the stands and the players in question need be no smarter than the writer thinks they are to realize this.

Frisch will hardly be himself in any case. He is using a balloon tire for the middle finger on his throwing hand and may find not only fielding but hitting a difficult proposition. Frisch will play second base however, because the Giants need his inspired leadership.

But at third base, the fragile Groh, sporting a demountable knee, has been replaced by Fred Lindstrom, a young man of excellent defensive virtues but lacking both experience and the punch at the plate. Try as I will, I cannot help but feel that the Giants are not as good a bet as they were several days ago.

Just how much natural hostility they must face at Washington ball park and how much this may be enlivened by the expose of Dolan and O'Connell, only the next few hours can disclose. It is fact, not fiction that Washington has taken the event rather quietly.

Little or no betting has been evident in the hotel lobbies and excitement everywhere is somewhat below par. Every local breast may be a seething caldron, but that, but if so they wear the mask in this town.

Man who killed landlady dying from shot in jaw

East Liverpool, O., Oct. 4.—William Wolfe, 37, day miner, who shot and killed this landlady, Mrs. Floyd Dearth, 50, in her restaurant here last night, following a quarrel over his investment in the business is dying today in the City Hospital from a self-inflicted bullet wound in his right temple.

Wolfe, after killing the woman, who was separated from her husband, shot himself in the left jaw. The bullet took an upward course, destroyed the optical nerve of his left eye and came out above his right temple.

WARNER ROUSED ATTACKS STATE DEPARTMENTS

Answers Charge of Locker Hinting Crookedness.

Marion, O., Oct. 4.—Prosecuting Attorney Fred W. Warner, chairman of the Republican state central and executive committees, addressed a communication to Governor Donahay in which he makes specific charges against the present state highway department.

Chairman Warner, replying to Cyrus Locher, state director of commerce in Governor Donahay's cabinet, states that Locher hinted in his speech here Wednesday night at "crookedness in the highway department under former Governor Davis." Warner specifies alleged "crooked transactions" in the department under the present administration, which, he says, are backed by written records in the office of the Marion county surveyor.

Chairman Warner cites a road building operation in Marion county where "B" grade stone is alleged to have been used instead of "A" grade, called for in the contract. The contractor, Warner asserts, was authorized to use "B" grade stone by Grover C. Snyder, district road supervisor. Warner also charges that "the department knew before it awarded the contract that the contracting company had no 'A' grade stone in its quarry."

Warner states his letter was prompted not only as an answer to the address of Locher, but because the highway over which the contractor hauled the stone for the new road was damaged to the extent of approximately $20,000. Warner asks that Governor Donahay direct the highway department to "repair this damage and make some effort to see that it is not repeated in this or any other county in this state."

Warner concludes: "All charges herein contained can be backed up by written records in the office of the Marion county surveyor."

MOTORISTS WARNED AGAINST CLUBS

Columbus, Oct. 4.—Motorists who feel they have been victimized by questionable automobile organizations have been asked by Fred H. Caley, president of the Ohio State Automobile association, to report details of the transaction to any other of the 86 Ohio automobile clubs for investigation. Caley directs particular attention to the fact that a majority of questionable organizations seek to sell what they term "contracts" which guarantee the member almost everything. Such propositions should not be confused with legitimate automobile club memberships, because such organizations always select their new members with the same sort of discrimination that is shown by all organizations that are pledged to the public's interest, Caley warned.

FOUR INJURED AS AUTOS COLLIDE

Akron, Oct. 4.—Richard White, Canton, H. Garman, of Keokuro, Ethel DeWalt, of 206 Monroe St., Canton, and Dorothea Burritt of 908 E. Tuscarawas avenue, Canton, were injured the first three seriously, when their automobiles collided at Arlington and Krumroy Roads last night. Garman was driving north when his car ran into that driven by White. Glaring headlights are held responsible.

Miss Burritt was taken home and the others to the city hospital here.

MORE THAN 1,000 FANS SIT UP ALL NIGHT TO GET SEATS TO FIRST WORLD SERIES GAME

Washington, Oct. 4.—More than 1,000 fans still were camping out just outside of the bleacher section of the Griffith park today after having spent the night there waiting for the ticket office to raise its window.

They spent the long hours of waiting in three ways. Either they curled up on hard boxes or boards and slept, passed the time singing songs in unison or they argued about who would win the World's Series.

Some brought soap boxes and pillows with them. The less thoughtful bought them from vendors at exorbitant prices. Hot dog and coffee salesmen got fat on their business.

Youngsters without the money to buy bleacher seats got in line just the same. They sold their places later for prices from 50 cents to $1.50, depending upon how near they were to the ticket wicket.

The descendants of George W. Bell can put him in the same class with Christopher Columbus, George Washington and Abraham Lincoln. He got first place in line and held it all night.

Hard on his heels was G. F. Horstman of Fort Wayne, Indiana. He came here especially to see the games. Numbers 3, 4, and 5 were from Charleston, S. C. They were John D. Jennings, P. C. Biers, and J. J. Frayne, all rooting for the Senators.

M. L. Lebacker and E. M. Marston of Portland, Oregon, were six and seven. All during the night and long after dawn, great billows of fog rolled down on the watchers, drenching them and making it difficult to see even the ball park.

With break of day, the proportions of the line began to swell noticeably. Many were bound to suffer disappointment, for there were 3500 seats to be sold, no more. The ticket window opened at 9 o'clock.

ARMY DIRIGIBLE GOES UP CARRYING SMALL AIRSHIP

Chicago Youth Wins Model Contest—Johnson Takes Dayton News Trophy—Big Pulitzer Classic
Scheduled for Saturday Program.

Dayton, October 4.—Featured by the tin bomber, won the Dayton Chamber of Commerce event and $4,000 in Liberty bonds. Lieutenant Myers, average 109.85 miles an hour for the 150-mile trip in his bomber which boasts of having flown more than 350,000 miles.

J. M. Johnson, of Johnson's Flying Service, Dayton and Buffalo, was first in the Dayton Daily News race for $2,750 in Liberty bonds, with E. Dornoy, of McCook Field, Dayton, runner up, in his "flying bathtub" a full lap behind the winner. Five light airplanes started the race but only two succeeded in finishing. Johnson's time for the distance was an average 64.01 miles an hour, while his only rival breezed around the course at an average speed of 50.05 miles an hour.

Lieutenant Macready, living up to his name of being able to fly "any thing on wings" piloted his rickety Wright plane down past the long grandstand, at this time, manipulating the controls like he had flown the plane all his life, finally coming to a stop amidst a burst of cheering from the crowd just as the largest plane in the world, the Barling bomber, took off into the air carrying the greatest load ever lifted by an airplane.

A Sperry messenger was hooked to the big dirigible but seemingly unhindered by the heavy loan the gigantic ship soared to a height of 1,000 feet where the plane was dropped. Gaining control of his plane immediately, Lieutenant F. C. Winter of Lanley Field, started the motor of the ship after a short drop and flew around the field.

The wonderful performance of the Jaros' plane was talked about continually after the race, and the Chicago boy was complimented on his plane's flight by Major General Mason M. Patrick, chief of the air service.

In bringing to a close the most successful air race meet ever held, the Pulitzer race for speed planes was scheduled for Saturday afternoon at the air field.

Four speed ships piloted by the world's leading speed pilots will try for the $10,000 worth of Liberty bonds offered to the winner of the race which is held annually to crown the speed king of the world.

Lieutenant W. H. Brockley, test pilot of McCook Field, Dayton, will fly one of the Curtis racers which at one time held the speed record. Captain Bert Skeel of Selfridge field, will man the other Curtis racer while Lieutenant H. H. Hills, of Wilbur Wright Field, will fly a Verillie Sperry monoplane.

An eleventh hour entry entered the fast race Friday afternoon. Lieutenant Rex K. Stoner will pilot the PW-8A, a plane unrivaled in speed and endurance in any part of the globe.

A spectacular carnival will be held following the Pulitzer race during which a miniature "New York City" will be bombed and destroyed.

DEMANDS RENEWED FOR INVESTIGATION OF BALL SCANDAL

Washington, Oct. 4.—Demands that a full investigation be made of the baseball scandal were renewed by Ban Johnson, president of the American league, and Barney Dreyfus, owner of the Pittsburgh National league club.

Johnson announced that he would not attend the world's series because of the suspicion surrounding the Giants, and Barney Dreyfus issued a statement which was viewed here as a challenge to the decision of Commissioner Landis, which placed the guilt for the bribery scheme upon Dolan and O'Connell alone among the Giant players. Johnson reiterated his contention that the series should have been called off.

Commissioner Landis declared he was keeping an "open mind" on the subject of scandal, but said no fresh evidence had been unearthed to alter the decision he made in New York disbarring O'Connell and Dolan, and exonerated Frisch, Young and Kelly, who were declared by O'Connell to be "in" on the deal. Landis displayed scant interest in the demands of either Johnson or Dreyfus, but pointed out that if they or anyone else had information which would throw new light on the situation, he would not hesitate to act swiftly upon it.

New Type of Run Runner.

New York, Oct. 4.—A boat carrying two powerful motors encased in steel turrets to deflect bullets was captured in New York harbor with her crew of five men and a cargo of 300 cases of whisky. For five miles the police boat pursued the craft, which set a 23-knots-an-hour pace, capturing it just before it was about to make the open sea. The captive was found to have two 450-horsepower liberty motors.

St. Paul Wins.

Baltimore, Oct. 4.—The Baltimore International league champions were shut out, 6 to 0, yesterday by the St. Paul champions of the American association, in the second game of the series for the minor league championship. The Orioles were unable to rathom the offerings of Pitcher Merritt, who allowed but three hits. St. Paul garnered 12 safeties, including a homer by Dressen.

SERIOUS PROBLEM CAUSED BY SEIZURE OF CHINESE RAILWAY

Pekin, Oct. 4.—A serious international problem has been created, it was declared in diplomatic circles here today, through seizure of the Chinese railway by Chang Tso Lin, by virtue of his agreement with the Russian soviet government.

France today protested to the Peking government from whose control Chang wrested the road on the ground that he had jeopardized the interests of French nationals in the railway.

The United States, Japan and Great Britain, are expected to follow suit.

Chang Tso Lin's new directors of the road have ordered the arrest in Harbin of General Gusev, manager of the railway and a leader of the White forces in Russia.

ANNUAL CARNIVAL AT JAMESTOWN TO BE STAGED AGAIN

Plans for the Business Men's Annual Halloween Carnival to be held Halloween night, October 31, at Jamestown, will be carried out on the same order as they have been for the last few years.

The plans were outlined and a general program arranged at a meeting of the business men, president L. F. Farquhar, assistants, W. F. Harper, R. G. George, Secretary, J. E. Christy and treasurer, B. M. Thompson.

Other meetings will be held in which definite plans and arrangements will be made. They hope to make this year's carnival exceed others of previous years.

Several features of the gala day, will be an all-day program, the afternoon probably to be given over to the school children for their events and parades; contests for old and young, with some interesting prizes; dancing, and the Annual Mask Parade. It is planned to obtain two or three bands to furnish music during the day and evening, and probably a radio that was one of the novel features of last year's festivity.

Traffic rules will be practically the same, the main street will be blocked off for the Halloween contests and other gaieties.

Dancing will be held in the street. Plans have not been made for dancing in Venard Hall.

CHURCH SUNDAY TO BE OBSERVED HERE

Xenia Churches will observe "Go To Church Sunday, October 5, which has been proclaimed by Governor Vic Donahey for observance over the entire state that day. October 5 was set aside by the Ohio Council of Churches and all Protestant churches of the state will observe such a day, opening an evangelistic effort to last until next Easter.

Governor Donahey's proclamation is as follows: "Sunday, October 5, has been designated Go-To-Church Day. I wish to urge that every man, woman and child in the State of Ohio observe the occasion. This might well be constituted an inspiration from which we should find encouragement for making every Sabbath "Go-To-Church Sunday."

DEMOCRATS WANT TO KNOW WHO SHOULD CALL THE MEETING

The Democratic campaign will probably not get under way for some time as there seems to be a misunderstanding as to the logical person to call a meeting of the executive committee for the purpose of making plans for the formal opening.

Edward Wood, chairman of the executive committee, has refused to call a meeting of the committee on the grounds that Emory Oglesbee, Caesar Creek Township, secretary of both the executive and central committees is the only man vested with authority to call such a meeting.

Mr. Oglesbee on the other hand reiterates that either Mr. Wood, as chairman of the executive committee or Fred Shellabarger, Bath Township, chairman of the central committee, should call the meeting.

As a result of this "merry-go-round" state of affairs, no meeting has been called and the November election draws nearer and nearer, with no help in sight.

Mr. Shellabarger, has not ventured an opinion on the controversy.

KLAN WANTS TO BUY AMUSEMENT PARK

The Springfield Ku Klux Klan is endeavoring to purchase Avalon Park, located south of Springfield, on Lettel Lane, it is announced.

If the deal is completed, Springfield will be Ku Klux Klan center or Ohio, according to Klan leaders. At present there are two leases on the park, one held by the Springfield Amusement Company, and the other one by a Columbus firm. Each of the leases is to be in effect until 1932 and as a result the Springfield Klan will be compelled to go to court to complete the purchase of the park, and to annul the leases. It is reported the Springfield Klan has the necessary $15,000 to make the purchase.

The trio was driving west on the Jamestown Pike about 9 o'clock Saturday morning when Lambert applied the brakes too suddenly, turning the car over. Driver Belden secretary of the Auto Club, happening along at the time of accident, took the injured to the office of Dr. W. H. Finley where the wounds were treated.

The machine was badly smashed and was taken to Swigart's garage. Lambert, his son, and Stevenson returned to their home in Ironton Saturday afternoon.

MONEY AT WORK

WHAT IS THE VALUE OF A REGULAR AUDIT?

A regular audit is essential to good business.

A regular audit has several things to recommend it:

1. The executives are given an accurate statement of the enterprise.
2. Irregularities and mistakes are caught instead of running and requiring cumbersome bookkeeping adjustments.
3. The moral effect upon employees is that records are kept up-to-date and in good condition.
4. Departmental weaknesses are of ten pointed out.
5. Continued theft by employees in the confidence of the executives is prevented.

Soviet Ban Kissing.
Moscow, Oct. 4.—Kissing has been banned in Russia. Dr. Memashko, soviet commissioner of health, issued the edict against kissing, which, he contends, is one of the most potent means of spreading disease. The new order will hit the Russian peasantry, who are in the habit of kissing one another, not only on the lips, but three times on each cheek in salutation.

lon of Leslie P. McCullough, president of The Buckeye State Building and Loan Association.

McCullough at one time pushed freight as truckman in a railroad freight house, when long hours, slave-driving toil and meagre pay were the rewards of 12 hours' service.

From farmer boy to truckman to head of one of the largest institutions of its kind in the world, is the story of McCullough's rise and record of service, and it is achieved through just these attributes he mentioned—service, determination and work.

"Plenty of rest," he said to an interviewer recently, "keeps me fit." "This was surprising, it seemed, in that McCullough had just concluded telling of the long arduous hours he was accustomed to putting in. "The day is never too hot, too cold, or too long to hustle," he had said.

The explanation was that when he got an opportunity to rest, he took it, and regular hours insured that opportunity.

"Friendliness, honesty in one's dealings, and the attitude of never worrying, he continued, "also help to keep one fit."

"Worry kills. Hard work never does. If something is worrying one, go fix it. If it can't be fixed, forget about it. That's the way I do."

"Studying human nature convinces me that most of the human ills arise from worry. Work can eliminate worry, and work can keep one fit."

"AMERICA" EXACT REPRODUCTION OF HISTORIC EVENTS

The romance of one hundred and ten million people is the story of "America," D. W. Griffith's premier production, which comes to the Bijou Theatre on its first regular tour Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday afternoon and evenings.

The picture is an attempt to suggest in a small way the great sacrifice made by American forefathers that this country might become a free and independent nation. It is not a story of the Revolutionary War, which is too big to produce in one picture, but no efforts have been spared to make the screen portrayal as correct as possible. The village of Lexington and Concord were designed from the Doolittle drawings and descriptions given by writers of the day.

The picture shows the exact number killed at Lexington and Concord bridge and the battle lines at Lexington are exact in number with the original, there being 800 British and 77 Americans. The details of Paul Revere's ride are historical incidents and replicas of his lanterns were hung in old North Church for the signals. The drum used by the Minute Men is the original used at Lexington and several flint-lock guns used in that battle are carried by the picture players. Buckman's Tavern is an exact reproduction and the Clark home is an actual photograph.

Players also were selected for their likeness to the originals, and with these features the picture has become a great historical and educational feature, endorsed by educators and its view urged for all. Carol Dempster, Neil Hamilton, Lionel Barrymore, and Louis Wolheim are among the stars appear in the ten reel production. There will be matinees daily and one evening show, starting at 8:15 o'clock.

HERE AND THERE

Sir William Price, president of the paper manufacturing firm of Price Brothers company, was killed in a landslide on the company's property, near Quebec.

Flotation of a $50,000,000 bond issue by the Pennsylvania railroad, proceeds of which will be used to retire a part of the 6 per cent bonds now held by the director general of railroads, was announced at New York.

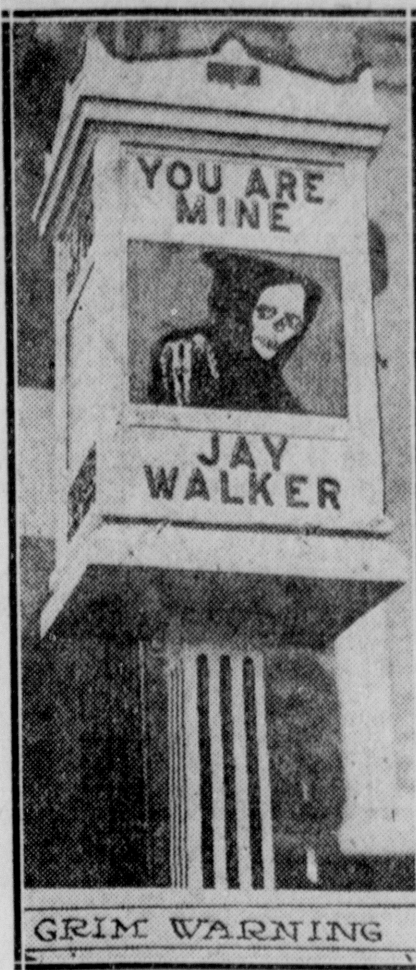

Control of L. C. Smith Brothers' Typewriter company passed to financial interests in New York city, represented by Ford, Bacon & Davis. More than $5,000,000 was reported involved in the deal.

Directors of the Ford Motor company of Canada have declared a cash dividend of 10 per cent, payable Nov. 15 to stock of record Nov. 5.

Librarians to Meet.

Columbus, Oct. 4.—Thirtieth annual meeting of the Ohio Library association will be held in the Deshler hotel ball room next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. Especial emphasis will be placed upon adult education work accomplished and to be accomplished through the libraries. L. L. Dickerson, director of adult education, American Library association, will speak at the Tuesday evening session.

Use Figure of Death to Protect Walkers

This gruesome figure has been installed at Fifth avenue and Forty-second street, New York City—the world's busiest corner—as a last warning to careless pedestrians and drivers. Lights play behind the transparent picture, flashing on and off at regular intervals. The warning will be displayed all over the city.

HOME PUPILS SEE FEATURE "AMERICA"

Pupils of the Ohio Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans' Home were guests of J. T. Hibbert, owner of the Bijou Theatre, at a special preview of the feature film "America" at the Theatre Saturday morning.

Although the picture is booked to show here Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, Mr. Hibbert obtained a release on the film for Saturday so he could give the special show for the children. Five hundred and fifty pupils, led by the Cadet Band, marched to the theater, the seating capacity of which was taxed to overflowing. Standing room only signs were hung after the children were seated.

Special performances will be given next week both in the mornings and afternoons for both city and rural school pupils who are urged to attend by school superintendents and who will be admitted at a special price of ten cents.

The decree was granted to Montani when Miss Nesbit failed to make a contest.

Maxwell is One of the Staunchest Cars Built Today

At all vital points, you will find that metals and construction of the good Maxwell are the same as in cars costing three to four times as much.

In proportion to its weight and power, it is actually stronger than the most expensive cars built today.

That's a big thing for us to be able to say about a car of the good Maxwell price; and it is one of the Chrysler superiorities that put Maxwell so far ahead of its own field.

Yet it is only one of the sound, fundamental superiorities which make us proud to be factors in its production. You have probably heard about Maxwell pick-up—how in a flat 8 seconds, it accelerates from 5 to 25 miles an hour.

You are also probably acquainted with the fact that the simple device of a platform spring under the front end of the motor, combined with the balancing of reciprocating parts to the fraction of an ounce, practically eliminates any sense of vibration.

Are you aware, however, that all the way through the Maxwell chassis, you find chrome nickel or other high grade alloy steel for those parts which must stand heavy stress and strain—just as in cars of highest price?

The front axle, and all the parts on which depends the control of the car, are almost unreasonably over-strong.

A bull-dog for powerful pulling—this car; but it can't pull too hard for transmission and rear axle.

The steering knuckles, and the king pins upon which they turn, are of chrome nickel steel, heat-treated.

The thoroughness of good Maxwell strength is well illustrated by the frame, which is unusually deep, and braced by six stout cross members.

Good Maxwell strength, in a word, is a match for Maxwell performance and dependability.

All these are a part of that complete and unusual goodness which scores of thousands of owners declare makes the good Maxwell the most care-free and economical motor car they have ever possessed.

We are pleased to extend the convenience of time-payments. Ask about Maxwell's attractive plan.

HIRAM JOHNSON HAS FOUND HIS POLITICAL HOME AT LAST

So Senator Hiram Johnson is reaching his genuine political home at last. He has been wandering in an out of the political jungles since the Armageddon of 1912. In 1916 he was wandering about in the decimated herd of "Bull Moose," uncertain where to go or what to do. At that time he was still "working" the "progressive" side of the street. In 1920 he thought he had a chance. He sailed into Frank O. Lowden and General Leonard Wood and fought himself and them to exhaustion and watched a "dark horse" from the Ohio stables run away with the race. Then he decided to reform. He was so close to being a "regular" at times during the last four years that only the genuine "regulars" knew he was hollow. Came 1924, and Hiram again started beating the bushes for delegates. He couldn't find enough to make a corporal's guard. The "regulars" knew him for what he is. So did the "progressives." Hiram had no home. The other day the California courts barred the LaFollette electors from an independent ballot. Like Mount Lassen, celebrated mud-volcano of his home State, Hiram erupted. He is now about to erupt all over the "Golden State" for LaFollette. Hiram has a home at last.—Public Ledger.

ARE ENGLAND AND FRANCE SELFISH ABOUT AIDING GERMANY

Preliminary negotiations between the British Board of Trade and the Berlin Government for a commercial treaty are said to have collapsed. Paris admits that French approaches upon the same subject have not proved altogether happy and that troubles and delays loom in the future. These reports seem almost ludicrous. Britain "succeeded" with Russia, though dealing with an antagonistic and utterly different economic system, virtually a different civilization; yet with her economic and cultural brother she fails. France and Germany were able to agree upon the biggest issue in Europe, reparations, yet they fall out over a little trade agreement. In another sense the British and French Governments have made themselves rather ridiculous; they seem to believe that, having rendered Germany valuable favors, Germany would consider turn-about fair play. They might have realized that giving Germany an inch means Germany will ask a mile and will not be happy till she gets it.

AUTOS INCREASE 20 PER CENT IN NATION

Automobiles registered in the United States during the first six months of 1924 amounted to 15,552,077. An increase of 20 per cent over the corresponding period of a year ago, the American Automobile Association, has announced upon the basis of the semi-annual count made by the United States Bureau of Public Roads.

There were registered during the first six months of the year 13,645,726 passenger cars; 1,831,405 motortrucks and 74,946 taxis, busses and cars for hire. In each of four States there were over a million motor vehicles registered from January 1, to July 1, 1924. New York had 1,233,362; California, 1,184,015; Ohio, 1,160,000, and Pennsylvania, 1,085,285.

The total receipts from registration fees, licenses and permits amounted to $199,472,682, and from the gasoline tax in thirty-six States, $32,430,410. These funds do not include personal property taxes on automobiles, which are levied in thirty-six States.

In the amount of motor vehicle registration fees and taxes collected from motorists, Pennsylvania heads the list with 23,086,413; New York comes second with $20,197,362; California third with $11,754,078; Michigan fourth with 10,950,393; Illinois fifth with $10,696,508 and Ohio sixth with $10,509,916.

JUST FOLKS

Edgar A. Guest

THE FOOLISH FISH

A wise man went out fishing and unto his friend he said:
"How foolish are the hungry fish, so eager to be fed.
You'd think they'd see this covered hook and see this linen line,
And learn when boats are overhead it isn't safe to dine;
But here we are deceiving them with morsels of delight
And catching them with lures you'd think no fish would ever bite."

Let's read the wise man's history. A stranger came to town
And whispered words of flattery the wise man swallowed down.
He praised his business judgment, and then whispered in his ear
A proposition which he said would make ten thousand clear.
The wise man hurried to the bank, 'twas almost three o'clock,
And he paid three thousand dollars for some pretty mining stock.
Another time the wise man met a stranger with a ring,
"I found it on the street," said he, "a large reward 'twill bring.
I'm hurrying to catch a train. Give twenty-five to me
And when the ring is advertised you'll get the larger fee."
The wise man swallowed hook and line.
He has the ring today
The ten-cent store shows dozens of its like upon a tray.

Hold out to most of us the lure of easy gold to make
And paint your promise fair enough, the bait will rush to take,
Something for nothing, whisper low and sense and reason fly
We give our hard-earned coins away, and later wonder why
The moral, I am sure is plain, I'll write it if you wish:
There's none of us has any right to criticize a fish.

Second Jewel Robbery Reported.

New York, Oct. 3.—Reports of a second jewel robbery in the homes of recent hosts of the Prince of Wales on Long Island were confirmed by John Sanford of Mineola, who has admitted to District Attorney Weeks that $50,000 in precious stones were stolen from his home. The robbery occurred last Sunday night. The case resembles the robbery of the home of Joshua S. Cosden, oil man, when Mrs. Cosden, Lady Montbatten and Mrs. Richard Norton lost jewels valued at $150,000. Lady Montbatten and Mrs. Norton were members of the party of the Prince of Wales.

Scrapping of War Vessels.

Washington, Oct. 3.—The scrapping of American vessels that was ordered by the Washington arms conference is proceeding on schedule time. Of the 28 fighting ships of the United States that were doomed to the scrap heap little remains but hulks, trimmed down to the water's edge. One vessel has been retained for a target ship and on three of the older craft the work of dismantling has been somewhat delayed, but all of them will have passed out of existence by Feb. 17 of next year, 18 months after the ratification of the treaty. Work on the three that are behind schedule has been ordered pressed so that they may be scrapped on time.

Sharp Rise in May Wheat.

Chicago, Oct. 3.—Wheat on the Chicago board of trade rose to $1.50 a bushel for May delivery. This represented an overnight advance of more than 3 cents a bushel, with all deliveries of wheat and rye here touching a new high price record for the season. Urgency of foreign demand for breadstuffs was the chief apparent cause.

Baltimore and St. Paul Teams Meet.

Baltimore, Oct. 2.—The "little world series" opens here this afternoon with the Baltimore Orioles, champions of the International league, pitted against the St. Paul Saints, champions of the American association. The series will be decided on the basis of five games out of nine. Four games will be played here and Sunday night the clubs will leave for St. Paul.

Steamed Fruit Pudding: (Contributed by "A Friend.") Mix together three and one-half cups of flour, one cup of granulated sugar, one cup of seedless raisins, one-fourth cup of dried currants, one level teaspoon of baking soda, one level teaspoon of baking powder, a good-sized piece of butter, a pinch of salt and a half teaspoon each of ground cinnamon and nutmeg; wet this mixture with two cups of sweet milk, then add one square of bitter chocolate melted. Turn all into greased, empty baking powder cans, put on tight-fitting covers, and stand the cans in a large saucepan which contains boiling water. Let the water boil around the cans for three hours. Serve hot with any hard sauce. It will be necessary to weight down the cans in water.

Escalloped Ham and Potatoes: Buy one pound of ham in one slice. Cut it into six pieces and stick one whole clove in each piece. Soak one quart of pared, sliced, uncooked potatoes in water for an hour, then drain, dry well, and place one-half their portion in the bottom of a buttered baking dish. Lay the ham pieces over this layer, and finish with a top layer of potatoes. Make a sauce by melting one tablespoon of butter and rubbing into it two tablespoons of flour, then wetting with one pint of sweet milk and seasoning with two small chopped onions and a pinch each of salt and pepper. Turn this sauce over all, and bake in a moderate oven for about two hours. Serve hot.

Chicken en Casserole: Trust a roast ing chicken as for roasting, but do not stuff it. Put it into a large casserole on a sauce made as follows: melt three tablespoons of butter in a small saucepan, then add to it two sliced raw onions and two sliced raw carrots; season with a small bit of bay leaf, a little salt and pepper, then add two cups of bouillon of beef stock (cleared canned soup may be used). After cooling for several minutes, turn this into a hot casserole, lay the chicken upon it, cover closely, and slip the dish into a hot oven to roast for about 15 minutes, after which reduce the oven temperature and let continue to cook for two hours. Remove from oven, add small pared potatoes, put on cover again and return to oven to bake for an hour longer.

AFTER AN OPERATION

Mrs. Wilke Couldn't Get Back Her Strength Until She Took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Rochester, Minnesota.—"I had a very serious operation and it seemed as if I could not get my health back after it. I suffered with pain almost constantly. My sister came to help take care of me, and she was taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for nervousness and a run-down condition. She had me try some of it, and in a very few days' time I began to feel better. In two weeks I hardly knew myself and after taking a couple of bottles more I was up and helping around, and now I am strong and healthy again and am still taking it. It is a pleasure for me to write this to you, and I hope that many other women who are suffering like I was will find out about your medicine. I will give any information I possibly can."—Mrs. JAMES WILKE, 333 E. Center Street, Rochester, Minn.

Remember, the Vegetable Compound has a record of fifty years of service and thousands of women praise its merit, as does Mrs. Wilke. Lydia E. Pinkham's Private Text-Book upon "Ailments Peculiar to Women" will be sent you free upon request. Write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Company, Lynn, Mass.

Greatly Troubled With Itchy Pimples Cuticura Healed

"I was greatly troubled with pimples breaking out on my face, arms, neck and shoulders. The pimples festered and scaled over, and my clothing irritated the breaking out on my arms and shoulders. They itched and burned and my face looked so badly that I had to stay at home because of the unsightly eruptions. I tried several remedies without success. A friend advised me to try Cuticura Soap and Ointment so I purchased some, and after using one box of Cuticura Ointment and two cakes of Cuticura Soap I was completely healed." (Signed) Miss Gladys Neilson, Patoka, Illinois.

CORN CROP CHANCES BRIGHTEN BECAUSE OF RECENT WARMTH

The weatherman did a good turn for Ohio farmers last week. He allowed a week of warmth, and the corn crop in most parts of the state showed its appreciation by ripening faster than it has for several weeks past.

That week of good corn weather, in the belief of farm crops extension specialists at the Ohio State University, has materially lessened the danger of a seed corn shortage next spring, though it has not by any means removed that danger.

The supply of seed corn for next year's crop is spotted throughout the state," says Wallace E. Hanger, one of the crops specialists. "One county will have a fairly good supply, while neighboring counties will be almost destitute. At least, our reports at this time so indicate.

"If the entire state is to have an adequate supply of seed next spring, then, farmers in the needy counties had best get in touch early with growers in counties where the stand has been good."

How well the crop as a whole will ripen depends now on how soon the killing frost comes. It comes, on the average, Oct. 6 in northern Ohio and Oct. 10 in southern Ohio, but it has in the past struck as early as the first week in September and as late as the last of October. If the frost is later than usual what crop there is may have a chance to overcome its late start.

PEN TO CONTINUE TO MAKE LICENSES

Columbus, Oct. 3.—Differences over the type of paint to be used in the manufacture of the 1925 automobile license number plates at the Ohio penitentiary apparently have been adjusted, as a result of a conference among Governor Donahay, Secretary of State Brown, Automobile Registrar Wilson and Purchasing Agent Brennan. Donahay ordered that making of plates proceed with the type of paint contracted for by Brennan after tests made had demonstrated, according to officials, that it would prove satisfactory. The new plates, in black and cream colors, will go on sale in December.

OPPORTUNITY SCHOOL MADE THIS YOUTH FROM DULLARD INTO SUCCESSFUL PUPIL

C. A. Waltz, superintendent of city schools cites an interesting case, illustrating the constructive work of the Opportunity School in making useful citizens.

The case is that of Andrew who had been in school a long time. It was just as he said, "The others passed on and I was left behind." He kept growing larger—a conspicuous figure among the little folk in his classroom. When visitors came, he hung his head. "I knew what the whispering was about," he declared.

At the age of thirteen he was in the fourth grade and doing failing work. The others went so fast he couldn't keep up with them. It was hard to get up and stumble through a reading lesson that others, much smaller than himself could read so easily.

He pleaded in vain to be allowed to stay at home. Then he started to play truant, only to be brought back, sullen and angry, to a place he hated.

He began to steal. It was something to do and something that he could do. But he was always caught. He lied about it, but wasn't clever enough to cover things up.

And then the Opportunity School! Finally an intelligence test showed that the academic work of his grade was a burden far too heavy, mentally, for him to carry and he was assigned to the special school.

He came unwillingly, but the special school with its loom-weaving, basketry and chair-caning, appealed to him from the first. In addition to this, toys were being made in the manual training department, and his help was needed. He was soon busily working with pupils, many of whom were as large, or larger than himself. He worked joyfully and patiently and soon became so expert in basketry, loom-weaving and chair-caning that he was able to pay the cost of the materials he used and to sell his handwork at a nice profit. His father was an invalid, and as his mother was the only support of the family, Andrew had had to do without things that most boys think necessities. Happy at work which he could do well, and earning a little money for himself, he no longer felt a desire to steal.

He, with the other pupils, was given special instruction in reading and he soon learned to read stories that his childish mind enjoyed. He was able to do the other academic work required of his class.

This boy stayed in the Opportunity School until he was old enough to procure a work certificate. The habits of industry taught him in the school have proved its worth, for he is now a helpful member of his family.

TRACE FOOD SUPPLY OF CORN BELT CITY AND NEARBY COUNTY

To find out how completely a typical city of the Ohio corn belt lives on the food produced in the surrounding county, a marketing extension specialist and two graduate students at the Ohio State University have about completed a survey of the city of Lima's food supply.

"The ultimate purpose of the survey is to bring city consumption and nearby farm production closer together," explains B. A. Wallace, the marketing extension specialist. "The figures and conclusions we have found true at Lima and in Allen County will apply reasonably well to similar counties and cities throughout the Middle West."

"So far but two or three such marketing surveys have been made in this country. One was made last year at Altoona, Pa., and one is being made this year at Richmond, Ind. Our conclusions and recommendations from the Lima survey will probably be ready for publication by the first of next year."

In collecting data the University men checked over the freight bills of 1923 for all five railroads and five interurbans going through Lima. Then because of Allen County's good roads and the constant use of trucks in hauling produce to Lima, the investigators had to get estimates from both dealers in Lima and truckers nearby.

As a result, part of the survey now gives the per capita consumption of Lima for nearly every food product from asparagus to watermelon, provided that the food is grown in Allen County, or is in competition with some food that is grown in Allen County.

PURE WHEAT SEED WILL BE SOWN IN OHIO THIS AUTUMN

More than 9,000 acres of wheat sown in Ohio this fall will be sown with seed that is 99 per cent, or more, free from impurities or diseases of any sort.

These 9,000 acres, scattered throughout 41 of Ohio's 88 counties, represent the Ohio farmer's interest in and desire to improve his wheat crop through pure seed of high-yielding, disease-resistant varieties. So the officers of the Ohio Seed Improvement Association and farm crops extension men at the Ohio State University report, and add:

Within the past five years this desire for better seed has sprung up and spread until this year growers in 41 counties had 18,300 bushels of wheat either registered or certified by the University and the Ohio Seed Improvement Association.

Registered wheat must, on field and threshing inspection, pass as 99.8 per cent true to variety and free from cockle, cheat, rye, or smut. For certified seed wheat, which is designed more for the general grower, the requirements are 99 per cent of varietal purity and freedom from weeds and disease.

All of the wheat certified and registered this year weighs more than 60 pounds to the bushel, the legal limit. The majority of it is over 61 pounds, and one lot weighed in at 62.7 pounds. Farm crops specialists call any weight over 60 pounds excellent.

The Trumbull variety leads in popularity, with Fulvio next, followed by Gladden and Portage, all of which have been developed by the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station.

Ask your neighbor about his Public Sale Advertising in The Gazette and Republican.

SERVICE

In line with modern newspaper publishing we offer the following as a means of helping our advertisers get the most out of the money they spend for our advertising space.

Let The Gazette and Republican Show You How to Hold a Successful PUBLIC SALE

The question often arises as to when a sale should be held. If properly conducted, a sale will be successful any time of the year from Sept. 1 to May 1—although the holiday season should be avoided. The season for corn harvest, which is a busy time for farmers, may be avoided.

October, November, December, January, February and March might be called the best months. February and March are exceptionally good months to sell horses for the spring work. People who have moved from other localities are also ready to buy implements and supplies needed for the coming season. Stock sells well most any time in the fall.

Any day of the week is good for a sale except Saturday—however, Saturday is an exceptionally good day for a sale in the city. No matter what time of the year an auction is held if properly advertised generally always brings results.

How To Prepare

Prepare for your sale by getting everything in the best possible shape, and do not wait till the morning of the sale to do it. Have all loose property gathered together. Have all implements cleaned and arranged in plain view. Have the horses well groomed, and a good man to show them. Be sure to have halters on hand for every horse sold. Have records for all bred animals. Have harness cleaned and on the horses when offered for sale. It looks much better than when lying in a heap.

Have cows and young calves clean and in a good condition. Also have them tagged and numbered which will prevent mistakes and disputes.

Sheep should be graded and divided into flocks of 10 to 25, always in clean pens.

Have all live stock in clean surroundings. Provide crates for fowls, many a bid is lost because parties have no way of taking care of them.

Carry on your sale exactly as advertised. Do not omit having a lunch unless the sale is a short one. Nothing conduces so much to comfort and humor and a man bids most readily when in a good humor.

The Cost of Advertising

If you advertise your sale thoroughly you will know you have done your best and you will always be satisfied. If you skimp on the advertising and save a few dollars, and your sale is not satisfactory you will always blame yourself for not spending a little more money and doing it right. $5.00 or $10 saved is nothing compared with the risk in selling a thousand dollars worth of property. The question is not, "Can I afford it?" but rather "Dare I take any chances?"

In advertising the sale remember it is necessary to cover the whole county to get the best results. The local village paper may advertise your sale well enough for the immediate vicinity; but that is not enough. Your sale is not a neighborhood affair. You need the very widest publicity. You want the bidders that come 10, 15 and 20 miles away, the strangers with the cash in their pockets.

To get these men you must place your advertising in a newspaper that covers the whole county. There are only two such papers in Greene County, The Evening Gazette and The Morning Republican. Another reason you cannot afford to stay out of The Evening Gazette and The Morning Republican is because they have come to be recognized as the "AUCTION PAPERS" and farmers look to them for auction news.

Making Up Your List

This should be done early and the list should be as full as possible. Don't be afraid of getting it too full for the article you omit may be the very one that would bring some customer to bid. The reader always goes over the list carefully. If a machine is new, or nearly new, or in good condition, or if an animal or article is extra good, specify the fact, give the weight of the horses, and their age, unless they are very old. Have your list made out when you go to arrange for your advertising. DON'T TRUST TO MEMORY.

Your Auctioneer

There are two points of supreme importance in an auction sale—the auctioneer and the advertising. Both must be the best, and neither one alone can make the sale a success. As to auctioneers the only advice is—get THE BEST MAN YOU CAN. It is better to pay five dollars more to your auctioneer than to lose $100 on your sale.

The selection of a clerk is also important. His position is a responsible one and he ought to be a thorough and accurate business man with a large acquaintance. He must also be quick witted so as to catch the bids instantly and not get confused. The name of a well known man, as your clerk, will help your sale. A good clerk will save you more money than you pay him.

Credit and Discount

The weight of opinion is against offering a discount for cash. It is not necessary. A man who can pay ready money generally will do so, and strangers coming from a distance almost always have the ready cash, with them. Very often it happens that every dollar paid in at a sale is cash and in such cases a discount of 2% would be money thrown away.

More For Your Money

There is no better way of getting a money-spending crowd than through advertising your sale in The Morning Republican and The Evening Gazette, because we go into practically every home in the county and relieve you of the big job of going all over the county to post bills. The cost of advertising in these papers and the results obtained are incomparable. Ask yourself this question, "how often do you stop to read an old-fashioned sale bill" and you will have the problem solved.

NUMBER OF FIRES INCREASES DURING LAST SEPTEMBER

Fires during the month of September of this year totaled nine, and increase of five over the same month last year, according to Fire Chief T. B. Claire. Damage from the nine fires amounted to $925 as compared with only $40 damage a year ago.

In spite of the increase in the number of fires the past September, the total number so far this year is below the mark set last year when there were exactly 65 fires previous to October 1, 1923. On October 1, 1924, a total of but fifty fires had been recorded.

The first fire last month occurred September 4 on property owned by H. E. Schmidt, resulting in a $25 loss. The second fire was September 5 at the Monroe Street Viaduct, when a cigarette set the boards on fire, no damage resulting.

The third fire at the residence of Charles Whittington, North Detroit Street, September 6, resulted in no damage. It was a grass fire. The fourth fire on Xenia Avenue, September 11, caused the greatest damage, a barn and truck chassis being burned causing $600 damage.

A grass fire September 12 at the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad depot caused no damage, while a roof fire at the residence of Mose Moxley caused $300 damage, September 16.

A leak in a gas stove at the residence of J. M. Cox, September 19 resulted in no damage, and no damage was incurred from a dump fire on Home Avenue September 24.

The last fire, September 26 at the residence of Joseph Voorhees, caused by a leaking motorcycle gasoline engine, was extinguished without damage.

During the winter months the fire total mounts up according to Chief Claire, as people are constantly building furnace fires and burning rubbish. August and other dry summer months are also bad fire months and roof fires are plentiful.

"Co-operation of the people is largely responsible for the small number of fires so far this year," said Chief Claire, "as well as the wet season during the spring months."

CAN BLAME TRAINS NO LONGER IF MILK SUPPLY DELAYED

Late trains can no longer be blamed for delaying the milk supply of Ohio cities, if conditions at Columbus hold good for the entire state.

As recently as 10 years ago steam and traction roads transported 55 per cent of the milk used by the city of Columbus; now they transport but 5 per cent. Trucks bring in nearly all the rest according to a survey of the Columbus whole milk district by John D. Bragg, until recently a graduate student in marketing at the Ohio State University and now county agent for Pickaway County.

Exactly 50 per cent of the milk brought into Columbus, Mr. Bragg's survey shows, is now hauled in by truck, 3 per cent by country retailers who distribute milk themselves in the city; 2 per cent by producers who distribute their own milk; 2 1/2 per cent by traction and 2 1/2 per cent by steam roads.

As one reason Mr. Bragg reports that "Rail transportation involved handling the milk six times before it reached the buyer's scales. Often the milk would stand on the shipping platform for several hours at both ends of the line."

"Today there are 60 trucks making daily trips into Columbus with milk. Distances vary from 14 to 130 miles a day, and the time consumed in gathering and delivering varies from 2 to 12 hours."

"In all, the milk coming directly into Columbus requires 2,011 miles of travel a day. The country plant hauling is 1100 miles a day, making a total of 4,111 miles of truck travel for each day's milk supply for the state capital."

The Luxury of Love

by VIOLET DARE

WHO'S WHO AND WHAT'S HAPPENED.

MARY HAYWARD, a famous beauty, has married SIR NIGEL CAVENDISH, as the result of a misunderstanding with the man she loves.

BRUCE GILLIAN, Gillian goes to Alaska, and Mary, joining her husband for their honeymoon in Italy, asks him to release her. He promises to do so if she will remain nominally his wife for six months. At the end of that time, when they are in Canada with WILMA RAYMOND, an old friend of Cavendish's, and her husband, he tells Mary that she is free to leave, and that he will go to Mexico and get a divorce. As soon as Mary has left for Seattle to join Bruce, Wilma sends the newspapers a story, saying that Mary has eloped with Bruce. Mary leaves a note for Bruce at the hotel and starts East at once, intending to clear up an old scandal connecting her with the death of a prominent society man, and then disappear.

TODAY'S INSTALMENT

XL—TOO LATE.

BRUCE GILLIAN, arriving in Seattle, went straight to the hotel. He had been in the States when Mary sent him her message, which had been forwarded to him, and so had reached the city sooner than she had supposed.

VIOLET DARE

On the train he had been too busy with a voluminous mass of correspondence to give the newspapers even a thought, and so had missed the news that had sent Mary flying eastward. He looked for her the moment he entered the lobby; of course she couldn't have known at what hour he would arrive, he assured himself, but he could not help feeling disappointed that she was not there. Well, he would register and send her word that he had come; his pulse quickened at the thought of seeing her again.

She might have changed, he reminded himself, in these months since he had seen her; she had travelled far, had gone through a difficult experience. But now at last she was to be free, free to come to him and let him give her the home and protection that she ought to have. It would not be long until they could marry, if Nigel carried out his plans as Mary had outlined them in her letter written from the Raymonds' ranch.

Her letter was given him at the desk, but he waited until he was in his own room to open it. A feeling that things had gone wrong was so strong that he did not even ask whether she was still stopping at the hotel or not. He wanted to put off the blow as long as he could.

Reading her letter, he was angry at first, angry even at Mary. How cruel of her to run away from him, when she should have stayed and talked the whole thing over with him. How could she think that it made any difference to him what people said of her? What did his career matter if he had her love? But he could not long be angry at her. His feeling changed to one of pity, directed toward Wilma Raymond and Nigel. In that moment he felt that he could have killed them.

There was only one thing to do, of course—that was to follow Mary as swiftly as possible. There must be some brief delay, because of business matters; all that evening he spent in his room, talking over the long distance telephone, sending telegrams, making plans so that his work could go on even though he was not there. He tried to reach Vera Atwood in New York by phone, but was told that she and her husband were on their way to a club on the Maine coast. They had gone by motor, and could not be reached before their arrival.

The next day he left for New York. It was not until she had been more than a day on the way that Mary found courage enough to look into the future that must be faced after she had straightened out her affairs. She had had some happy notions of what she would do, now she took them out and shaped them into definite plans.

She would still have her small apartment in New York; she had paid rent ahead on it when she went abroad to join Nigel. For a time she could stay there, perhaps, if she could get some sort of employment, she could go on living there. Otherwise she would rent it to someone else and get a room somewhere.

And she would find work. She felt absurdly helpless when it came to that; there was nothing she could do. She had been brought up with the marriage market always in view, had been trained for nothing else.

Looking from the windows, she envied the women of whom she caught stray glimpses as the train tore across the country. They looked like women who, however hard their lives might be, still had some definite plan of life. They were useful; someone in the world needed them. And she—why, she had never been necessary to anyone!

Bruce went straight to the hotel.

All her energies, always, had been devoted to herself. She had learned to sew, in order to make things for herself, so that money, saved in this way could buy her something else. She had learned to care for her own body, to manicure her nails, shampoo her hair, give massage.

"I'm a lady's maid, that's all," she concluded at last. "I'm not fit for anything else. I've been trained to take care of myself, and now all I can do is to do that same thing for some other woman. I'll have to change my name—nobody would want a maid with my reputation. I'll go to some city where I'm not known, and get a position."

She leaned back and looked out at the flying landscape through tear-dimmed eyes. What a crime it was to bring up a girl as her aunt had brought her up, making her fit to be nothing but a wife, and no an especially competent one at that! All the gay, excitement-filled day through which she had laughed her way, all the nights filled with dancing and bridge and flirtation, were to end this way, just because, after all her training, she could not find the niche for which her aunt had intended her.
